Dear Mark,

Thanks for helping to make our Team City Conference such a success. I heard numerous people say how you made such a difficult subject so easy to understand. Your touches of humor sprinkled throughout the presentation were delightful. The fact that the audience wanted you to continue ten minutes beyond the scheduled time was a real affirmation of how much they were getting from your presentation.

It was a pleasure to work with you in preparing for the conference and a joy to get to know both you and your wife better at the conference. Michael Barnhill told me how much he enjoyed playing golf with you. Best wishes for much continued success.

Sincerely,

Karen Bourdier
